Dear President of the United States of America,

I am writing in response to one of the largest issues in the state of Arizona. The city of Prescott features a beautiful historic downtown; however, the non-historic parking is not accessible per the standards of ANSI A117.1, especially in regard to a functioning county courthouse; in addition, accessibility is poorly acknowledged in the city, with countable problems in access. The issue is generating additional societal problems that infringe on Constitutional Rights, per a medley of deviant factions utilizing various technologies to cause havoc, health, and religious issues. The city's jurisdictive department for street design, including accessibility, is an engineering department. It is clear that Engineers are not qualified to address the full value of accessibility, per the evidence of unaddressed requirements in accessible design and maintenance. The clearly visible evidence at the historic courthouse needs a comprehensive and properly expensive resolution.

In contrast, I am proud, as a California born male, to be a part of providing accessible and compliant design, as championed by Californian cities, through my work as a LEED AP BD+C and licensure candidate in California for Architect. To better protect American value, I have drafted a document that outlines the need for a Professional Board of Practice at the Federal level of law, which includes other professional disciplines like Law and Medicine. The outline can allow professional practice to have consumer protections; correctly providing legally binding governance to solving simple problems and impediments to society caused by the current disorder of state and local jurisdictions. Please understand that it is imperative to prioritize governance to solve the societal issues with Constitutional rights, primarily human rights. The Federal Professional Board of Practice is a proposal that will complete the value of the United States of America, and, one great solution to meeting your sworn oath as President.

Sincerely,

Seth Branham Trotter
